Part III DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-21 are pending.

Restriction/Election

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

Group I. Claims 1-4, 7-11 and 20-21, drawn to polynucleotides, host cells and vectors with said polynucleotides and methods of making a polypeptide by expressing said polynucleotides, classified in class 536, subclass 23.6 and 435 subclass 69.1.

Group II. Claims 5-6, drawn to a polypeptide, classified in class 530, subclass 350.

Group III. Claims 12-13, drawn to methods of diagnosing arthritis by detecting mRNA, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

Group IV. Claims 14-15, drawn to methods of diagnosing arthritis by detecting polypeptide with an antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.

Group V. Claims 16-19, drawn to antibodies, classified in 530 subclass 387.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Groups I, II and V are unique products. They differ with respect to their physicochemical properties and are therefore patentably distinct.

Groups III and IV are unique methods. They differ with respect to ingredients and method steps. A method of detecting mRNA and a method of detecting polypeptides with antibodies represent patentably distinct subject matter as evidenced by their divergent classification.

Groups IV and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (M.P.E.P. 806.05(h)). In the present case, the product as claimed, the antibody can be used to immunopurify the protein.

Groups I, II, V and III are unrelated products and methods and are therefore patentably distinct.

4. Because a search of these five distinct inventions would not be co-extensive with a search of the others, an examination and search of two or more inventions in a single application would constitute a serious undue burden on the examiner.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor or at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of the inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 CFR 1.48 (b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17 (h).

7. Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Patrick Nolan whose telephone number is (703) 305-1987. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Thursday from 8:00 am to 5:30 pm.
